A record breaking crowd of approximately 300 attended the Antioch Grade School P.T.A. meeting last Monday evening. A gym demonstration was presented by Mrs. James Bruski, Physical Education teacher, as she directed 150 students from her classes.

Mrs. Bruski explained the progress of the gym classes from first to eighth grade. As she told of each grade's work, that class demonstrated the things she had taught them, including tumbling, folk dancing and trampoline acts.

The gym classes teach the children muscular coordination and how to take orders on command.

During the business meeting, the new officers were installed by Mrs. Richard Whitacre.

Refreshments were served to the children and adults by Mrs. Donald Blake and Mrs. Arthur Meierdick, assisted by other kindergarten mothers.

Make This Comparison

Writing in National Review, Robert V. Jones describes the Soviet price system. It is a system whereby the state fixes all prices and all wages, and establishes whatever relationship it desires between them. These prices, save for certain absolute necessities of life are extraordinarily high when translated into hours of labor a man or woman has to put in to buy commodities. To cite one example, it takes about 300 hours for a skilled factory worker to earn enough to buy a suit of clothes.

In the course of his article, Mr. Jones says something that should be of particular interest to American consumers who are used to going into our retail stores and finding what they want at a price most families can afford to pay. He writes: "In a free-market consumers express their wants by bidding for particular goods, and as prices for particular goods rise or fall producers adjust their production accordingly. The Soviet administrative bureaucracy can obtain no such information from the price mechanism, for they themselves have set all the prices. They are consequently compelled to order production in accordance with their own ideas of what people ought to have, rather than in accordance with needs as consumers themselves believe those needs to exist. . . . The result is that the Soviet citizen has very little opportunity for self-expression in his use of the material things of life. He eats the food, wears the clothing, and occupies the housing that is ordered for him. . . ."

The Soviet shopper is offered an extremely limited assortment of shoddy goods at high prices. Compare this with American retail stores with their almost incredible abundance of offerings. When you make the comparison, you are actually comparing the competitive free enterprise economy with the government controlled and dictated economy.

Polio Questions and Answers

The questions everybody is asking about polio vaccination are answered in a quiz sheet just issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that staunch organization which has been battling polio for 20 years and which made the Salk vaccine possible. Here are the main ones:

Q. Can adults get polio? A. They can and do. And it hits them harder than it hits children.

Q. Are parents safe from polio if their children have been vaccinated? A. No. Everybody has to get his own vaccination. A vaccinated person, though protected against polio, can still carry the polio virus and infect the unvaccinated.

Q. Are you safe if you've had one shot? Two shots? A. Not as safe as the vaccine can make you. One shot is better than none. Two shots are better than one. But for maximum protection you need at least three shots of Salk vaccine.

Q. Is a baby too young to be vaccinated? A. Last year babies one year old had the highest polio attack rate of any age group. Next came children aged two. Some health authorities recommend starting polio shots at two months.

Q. Where can you get Salk vaccine? A. From your doctor or at local vaccination clinics. Start shots early to have full protection before the next polio season.

Make Tax Dodgers Pay

Taxes are one of the biggest problems facing the people of the United States. National defense depends on them. They take a huge bite out of the earnings of practically everyone. Socialized businesses which escape taxation add to the burden of every taxpayer. For that reason the following figures are of interest. They are representative of what large and small private electric companies pay to support government.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Co. of California in 1957 paid a tax bill of $128,888,000—or 26c out of every dollar of the company's income. The Federal income tax alone accounted for $65,278,000. All the highly taxed private electric companies of the United States paid approximately the same proportion of their earnings in taxes for a total of well over a billion dollars in 1957. Contrast this with Federal and other publicly owned power projects which pay no Federal income tax and which escape most or all of other taxes.

It is a favorite practice for advocates of socialized power to say that the private electric industry does not pay taxes, it merely collects them from the customers by adding them to its bill. One might as well say that no business pays taxes, or that a workman does not pay taxes—that they simply add their tax to the price of their product or service and collect it from their customers or employers. Customers of tax-exempt public power plants escape the taxes which the private electric industry must collect from the users of its service. Therefore the users of public power are failing to contribute their just share of the cost of government and loading increased burdens on to other taxpayers.

When both Federal and local governments are scraping the bottom of the barrel for tax revenue, there is no reason why this unfair tax-exemption of public power plants should be longer continued. Such plants now furnish over 20 per cent of the power produced in this nation. If their customers paid their share of taxes for electricity used, government would be collecting upwards of $300 million a year in new revenue. Why should there be tax exemption for a privileged class of customers in these critical times?

Time Is Running Out

The Senate Subcommittee on Surface Transportation started its hearings into the critical railroad situation on January 13 and closed on April 3. In that interim, it heard scores upon scores of witnesses, representing the railroads, the other carriers, labor, shippers and users' organizations, regulatory bodies and so on.

At the close of the inquiry the Subcommittee's chairman, Senator Smathers, said that there was a wide divergence of opinion regarding a solution to the problem, and that it will not be simple or easy. The Subcommittee, he added, must give a great deal of study to the mass of testimony taken before it can offer comprehensive recommendations.

This is all very true. At the same time, it is evident that delay in taking constructive steps must be held to the minimum if economic deterioration of the railroads is to be prevented from progressing to the point of catastrophe. It also is evident that certain of those needed steps are as clear as clear can be.

One, for instance, lies in repeal of the World War II emergency excise taxes on the commercial transportation of freight and passengers. Another lies in changed laws and policies to allow the railroads to abandon passenger train services and related facilities, such as stations, which are now carried on at heavy out-of-pocket loss, and for which there is no longer any demand. Still another—and this is the most important by far—is a relaxation of regulatory principles so that the railroads may make the most of their inherent advantages in competing for traffic. Existing law, in many instances, treats the rails as if they still held a monopoly, and as if we were still living in the past century.

Time is running out—for an industry which is absolutely vital to this country's welfare.

Glaucoma Threat To Over-Forty Population Group

CHICAGO—An increasing life span is contributing to an upswing in diseases common to our aging population.

Among the most feared of these is glaucoma, a common eye disease characterized by tension within one or both eyes, and with a high rate of incidence in persons past 40.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, three Memphis doctors estimate "one million persons over 40 in the United States have unrecognized glaucoma."

While tragic, this is a problem that could be eliminated, the doctors said, since early detection and treatment "can preserve vision for the lifetime of the individual."

Glaucoma, in its early stages, gives no evidence of pain and there is no apparent loss of vision. For these reasons personal detection is almost impossible and the doctors recommend that an eye examination "be made a part of every general physical examination in persons over 40 years of age."

The simplest means for testing for glaucoma is the tonometer—an instrument for measuring tension in the eyes. Physicians can be taught to use the instrument after a brief period of instruction. Its use, the doctors said, "requires less time and no greater aptitude than obtaining the blood pressure."

Tonometry was used as the basis for a six-month glaucoma detection program conducted by Drs. Margaret E. Horsley, Phillip M. Lewis, and Henry Packer at the John Gaston Hospital in Memphis.

More than 1,200 patients were examined in this manner. Four percent were found to have unrecognized glaucoma. The diagnosis by tonometry was confirmed by employing comprehensive tests commonly used in glaucoma detection.

Results of this program, the doctors said, indicate that routine determination of eye tension by tonometry "would be a major step toward avoiding much of the blindness resulting from glaucoma."

Dentists Believe in Life Insurance Plans

NEW YORK— Practically all dentists in the United States are owners of life insurance policies. In eleven states, 100 per cent of the dentists are owners and for the U. S. as a whole, 98 per cent are. In the age group 35-55, the ownership is 92 per cent.

This is indicated in a survey made by the American Dental Association, covering practices in 1956. The average amount owned by dentists was given as $26,000 for the U. S. as a whole, with state averages running as high as nearly $85,000 in Georgia.

Edison's Invention

NEW YORK—In 1901, Thomas A. Edison developed and patented the nickel-iron-alkaline storage battery. Because of its excellent characteristics, this type of battery is still used today in such equipment as trains, ships, railroad signals and radio installations.

Summer Session at Salem High Will Be Devoted to Reading

A. H. Erickson, principal of Central High School, Salem, Wis., has announced that Central High School plans to offer to presently enrolled high school students and to incoming freshmen an opportunity this summer to improve their reading skills and abilities.

At Grant High Friday

The Big Hollow Girl Scout Troop No. 433 will present a musical, called "The Girl Scout Follies," at 8 p.m. Friday, May 23, at Grant High School.

Preparation for this musical began in January. Songs that have proved most popular through the years since 1900 will be heard, either in pantomime, vocally or with dance numbers. There will be five scenes.

The first scene covers the years 1900-1914; the second takes us through the First World War period. Scene Three depicts vaudeville and the smashing '20s; the fourth takes us thru the upside down years of World War II and Scene Five brings us to the present day.

The show, using 65 songs, will include several tap and modern ballet routines, six other dances, acrobatics, piano solos, vaudeville acts, unusual costuming, beautiful scenery and Albie Ramsey and his Rhythm Kings.

The Big Hollow Girl Scouts have two reasons for presenting this show, which they have rehearsed for four months. First, they want to entertain, and second, the proceeds are to go toward a troop week-end at the Wisconsin Dells. Grass Lake Pupils Entertain P.T.A. at Last Meeting of Yr.

Just about all of the parents turned out for the last meeting of the Grass Lake P.T.A. Monday night, when the first through fifth grade children entertained.

First on the program were Mrs. Roy Kufalk's first graders, who told and acted the story of Goldilocks in song. Donna Yopp was Goldilocks and the three bears were played by George Bailey, Sheri Lynn Turck, and Gail Jensen. The rest of the class were a chorus of woodland flowers.

Maypole dances were done by Miss Pat Keulman's second and third grade pupils. They performed such complicated weaving of the ribbons as braiding, criss-crossing, and others. This colorful spring display was done very well by these young children.

Mrs. Colie Golden's fourth and fifth graders did a fine job of choral singing. Their numbers announced by Brandon Schaefer were "When Poppies Close Their Eyes," "Lord I Want to Be a Christian," "Slumber," "Three White Doves," and "Let the Fun Begin."

The song "Pledge of Allegiance" was sung by Mrs. Golden's and Miss Keulman's rooms. Two piano solos and two accordion solos were also done by members of the fourth and fifth grades. Sheryl Meyer played "The Marionetta" and Carol Frasier "Fluttering Leaves" on the piano. Accordion solos were "Vienna Life" by Bonnie Faust, and "Lichtensteiner Polka" by Tommy Wojnowski. Piano accompaniment and direction for the entire performance was done by Miss Olive Dobson, music teacher for the Grass Lake School.

After the program the P.T.A. held a short regular meeting, at which Mrs. Karl Hawkins presided for the last time as president. She expressed her thanks for the co-operation of the parents and various chairmen while she held office. Mrs. Francis Burke, member of the Lake County Council of P.T.A. then took over the meeting and acted as installing officer for the in-coming officers. These were Mrs. Wilbert Schaefer, president; Mrs. James Ferrier, vice president, Mrs. Harold Gaston, secretary; and Mrs. Walter Johnson, treasurer. They accepted their duties as officers from Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Schaefer accepted the gavel and adjourned the meeting. All of the out-going and in-coming officers were presented corsages of white carnations. Refreshments were served by the first grade mothers with room mother Mrs. Jacque Koppen in charge.

The P.T.A. apologized for the absence of milk which was to be served to the children present at this meeting. Arrangements had been made but unfortunate circumstances prevented delivery at the last moment.

Many observers expect a rough no-holds-barred battle between the "big three" car makers and the United Auto Workers union when new contract negotiations take place this year. Victor Riesel writes of the possibility of the companies stockpiling as many as 4 million cars and Walter Reuther building up a $50 million strike fund. Then both sides would be ready for a prolonged shutdown.

Fire Department Radio Equipment Shown at Open House Sunday

In honor of the Antioch Fire Department, Mrs. Vivian Maplethorpe, who operates the Telephone Answering Service on Lake street, held an open house Sunday.

At that time the firemen and others viewed the newly installed radio alarm equipment and the procedure followed after a fire has been reported.

The newly purchased equipment has proven invaluable in that the firemen are able to give much faster response when called. The location and source are relayed immediately through their individual portable receivers, and in a matter of minutes the trucks are on their way.

The Telephone Answering Service has full responsibility for all fire calls and handling of siren and radio transmitter.

The fire department number for reporting a fire is 890.

Jet Streams Race Around World At Terrific Pace

WASHINGTON—Thousands of feet above the earth, racing winds zigzag across the sky. Unnoticed from below, they lurk in ambush for planes and rockets.

These treacherous rivers of air, known as jet streams, whip across the sky at speeds up to 450 miles an hour. They travel at altitudes ranging from about six to ten miles.

Rocket tests have been postponed for days when meteorologists reported jet streams were passing overhead. Airplane pilots take pains to avoid a stream going in the wrong direction. When a stream is going the right way, a pilot can almost coast to his destination.

For centuries men knew nothing of these high winds. Then in 1883 a virtually unknown volcano island called Krakatoa, lying between Java and Sumatra, exploded with such fury it was heard nearly 3,000 miles away. The earth-shaking volcanic blast carried ash an estimated 17 miles above the earth.

The speed with which the clouds of dust spread around the world suggested the existence of fast-moving winds far above the earth. But decades passed before the clue was followed up. As aviation got under way, pilots began reporting that winds at high altitudes would enable them to break speed records—or bring their planes almost to a standstill despite engines running at full tilt.

Meteorologists believe the streams have an enormous effect on the weather below. Undulating from west to east around the world, they move northward in summer and southward in winter, like birds and tourists. They may pull a storm or even a hurricane far out of its destined course.

Tranquilizers Help in Surgery

CHICAGO—Four tranquilizing drugs have been found to be helpful in better patient management during surgery.

A clinical study by a team of New York doctors indicates that the drugs have a marked effect in relieving apprehension and stress before an operation. This results in a reduction in the amounts of preanesthetic narcotic and induction barbiturates required during and after surgery.

Medication before surgery is used to reduce psychic and metabolic activity in patients. This develops a feeling of less overall depression, allowing a smoother, safer anesthesia with a lower incidence of postoperative complications, the doctors said.

Public Sees Firemen's Alarm System at Answering Service

Louis VanPatten, right, only living charter member of the Antioch Fire Department, and Ray Taft active member of the department view (on top of the counter) a receiving set such as possessed by 25 members of the department now as a part of the radio alarm system which is operated by the Antioch Telephone Answering Service where the picture was taken. At the left is Miss Glynnette Keating, who assists the proprietor, Mrs. Vivian Maplethorpe in not only dispatching the fire alarms, but in answering telephone calls for 38 firms. During open house Sunday the public not only got to see the operation of the manual in the answering of calls, but the new sending equipment (seen beneath the receiver between the two men) over which the operator can put out a fire call to all 25 receiving sets at one time. Mrs. Maplethorpe said that at one time she had to operate 38 telephones around the room. Now calls come through the switchboard.

rates which have been used in this treatment achieved desirable psychic and metabolic effects but also produced undesirable side effects such as nausea, vomiting, dizziness, and respiratory depression.

The four compounds observed during the three year study were chlorpromazine, mepazine, promethazine, and diphenhydramine.

New Sea Water Method Believed Promising

BERKELEY, Calif.—The distillation of sea water on a large scale may become economically feasible by a revolutionary new method described recently by a University of California scientist, Dr. LeRoy A. Bromley, professor of chemical engineering.

Dr. Bromley calls his unit, which is still on paper, a "multiple effect centrifugal evaporator." The idea shows promise of greater efficiency in fuel consumption per gallon of water evaporated.

The scientist calculates that a battery of his units producing 10,000,000 gallons of water per day would produce water at a cost of from 25 to 50 cents per 1000 gallons. The "ideal" of researchers is to evaporate sea water for a price of about 30 cents per 1000 gallons, whereas the cheapest commercial process now in use yields 1000 gallons for about $1.75.

Next time you pick up a package of meat in a Jewel Market, notice the three letters E. V. T. on the label. They stand for EXTRA VALUE TRIM—the exclusive Jewel way of giving you a better-cut of meat for less money. Perhaps you already know E. V. T. means removing all excess fat and bone before weighing, but did you know E. V. T. also means . . .

Jewel cuts only the first 5 ribs in a side of beef for standing rib roasts . . . the 6th and 7th ribs are for pot roast (removing the blade and selling it for boneless rolled roast is not the Jewel way).

Removing the tails from Porterhouse steaks is the newest addition to E. V. T. (Since the tail isn't as tender, it's ground and sold as hamburger.)

As you see, Jewel's E. V. T. policy applies to all cuts of meats. No wonder that more and more home-makers are joining the swing to Jewel for the best buys in meats!

Their study shows that the states and localities built 63,000 classrooms in 1956 as compared with 9,000 in 1947, and expect to build 70,800 classrooms in 1957-58. Illinois school districts spent $123 million for school buildings in 1956.

The NTC consists of 37 statewide taxpayer associations, including the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. Its aim is less costly, more efficient government at Federal, state and local levels.

Utilizing data prepared by the U.S. Office of Education, the study shows that from the Fall of 1954 to the Fall of 1957, the number of pupils exceeding school capacity dropped 17+ % or from 2.3 million to 1.9 million. Capital outlays have increased from a postwar low of $111 million in 1948 to $2.8 billion in 1956.

Capital outlay has not increased at the expense of spending for school operation purposes. Between 1946 and 1956, total operation expenditure nearly tripled. While plant operation and maintenance, and other fixed charges contribute to operation costs, teachers' salaries regularly account for about 60 per cent or more of the total. Instructional salary levels more than doubled to an average of $4,125 during the period 1946-1956 (average for Illinois in 1956—$4,460). Total amounts spent nationally for school operation per pupil in average daily attendance increase at a similar rate, from $136 to $280. Illinois is well ahead of the national average with an increase from $178 for 1946 to $350 in 1956. According to the review, 23 states allot school construction grants to localities, 12 provide building loans, and 5 have authorized school building authorities. The Illinois General Assembly, in 1957, authorized a state school building commission, with $10 million appropriated for elementary school construction in needy districts.

Notwithstanding the classroom construction attainments of states and localities, demands for Federal aid persist. Yet it would be difficult to channel Federal grants to areas where they would do the most good. For instance, under H.R. 1, defeated at the first session of the 85th Congress, Federal grants to states where excess pupils exceed the 5.9 national average would have amounted to $272 per excess pupil. In other words, grants would have been in inverse ratio to need.

Nuptials of Miss Mabel Zeien of Antioch and Thomas O'Farrell were solemnized at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Chicago, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Father M. M. Ries, pastor of the church and a cousin of the bride.

The couple was attended by Miss Virginia Ulrich of Chicago and Nick Zeien, brother of the bride. Miss Zeien wore eggshell satin with a white veil. Her bouquet was lilies of the valley tied with white satin streamers. Miss Ulrich's gown was of rose satin trimmed with turquoise blue. Tea roses and forget-me-nots made her bouquet. (Ed. Note: Miss Ulrich is now Mrs. Nick Zeien.)

The bride is the daughter of Paul Zeien, Sr., of Channel Lake and for the past five years, has worked for the Wahl Eversharp Pen and Pencil Company. The groom is the son of P. J. O'Farrell of Chicago. He is employed by the Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. O'Farrell will be at home at 1253 Otto St., Chicago.

A buffet supper was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilton Tuesday night by the evening Bridge Club as the last party of the year. Prizes at bridge, which was played following supper, were won by Miss Ida-Belle Harwood, Miss Cornelia Roberts and Miss Mildred Byrnes.

Starting next week and continuing through the summer, the public library in the grade school building will be open Tuesday and Friday afternoons only, from 3 to 5 o'clock. D.S.T., Miss Mary Stanley, librarian, has announced. Miss Stanley states that the library may be open an additional evening if there are enough patrons who want this additional time. A study of Eskimo life, "Arctic Village," by Robert Marshall was received by the library this past month.

A deciding game of the Northwest High School Conference will be played tomorrow (Friday) afternoon on the local diamond when Arlington Heights will go to bat against the Antioch High School nine. The game will be held at 4 o'clock, D.S.T., on the high school grounds.

Antioch's baseball team, having played 7 conference games, with no defeats chalked against its record, will take the conference title if Arlington is defeated in tomorrow's game. If Arlington wins, Antioch still has a chance at the title when Arlington completes its season with a game against Barrington. If Barrington beats Arlington, Antioch will still be conference champion in baseball. If Arlington defeats Barrington, Antioch will rank second in the conference.

Miss Sheehan Wed to Frederick Stahmer Today

In Ceremony at St. Peter's

In a simple ceremony attended only by relatives and close friends, Miss Stella Sheehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sheehan, and Frederick Stahmer, were united in marriage by Fr. Francis Flaherty this morning. The service was performed at St. Peter's church at 11 o'clock.

Miss Hazel Sheehan, sister of the bride, and Floyd Tidmarsh attended the couple. The bride wore peach colored dotted net, made on long bouffant lines and worn over crepe of the same color. Her hat was a turban of matching velvet with a circular face veil. Miss Hazel Sheehan wore a dotted net frock of blue with a turban of the same color.

The couple left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They will be at home on Depot street next week. Mr. Stahmer operates

DON'T ROCK THE BOAT

The young couple in the front of the boat should be petrified. Any one who believes a small boat is a place to frolic and have fun should be barred from any activity in, around, and on the water.

Looking at the picture further, a question comes to mind as to whether the boat is properly loaded. An overloaded small craft is extremely dangerous and piling in six to ten people is one of the surest ways to commit suicide we know of. The maximum load should allow for two-thirds of the amidships depth of the boat to remain freeboard. In other words, not more than one-third of the depth of the boat should be below the water line. If you want a specific formula to determine the maximum load your boat will carry safely try this: The volume of your boat in cubic feet divided by 12 x 150 pounds will equal the number of pounds maximum load. You determine the volume in cubic feet by taking the length of the boat x the beam in feet x the depth in feet x the coefficient 0.6.

Let's add this to remember, too. It is common sense not to go out on the water if bad weather is threatening. One should at least not go too far to return in ample time if necessary in any type of small boat including outboards. And once again—Non-Swimmers Must Wear Life Jackets!

Invest in a water safety education. . . . Waterproof your family . . . learn to swim . . . a good place to do this is at the Antioch pool this summer.

Life, Law and God

Lesson for May 25, 1958

There are three kinds of law in the Old Testament. Christians are sometimes confused about them because of not stopping to consider just what these kinds of law are. The Ten Commandments come first of all. They are the key to all the other laws. From that day to this—or for that matter, long before that time—all particular laws in human society, so far as they are good, will be seen to be particular cases or applications of some one or another of the Ten Commandments. These are universal, they are God's laws for all, they are still the basic pattern of right living.

Second are the "statutes" as they are sometimes called, the special laws for ancient Israel, embedded in the books of Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, in various legal codes. These are like the laws of any country or city that no longer exists. The law died when the country died. What is still living in the statutes is their principles, and these are as good as new. The third class of laws is the great mass of regulations governing the rituals and the sacrifices. These have no binding effect whatever today, because the Tabernacle and Temple are no more, and "Christ our Passover" has been once and for all sacrificed for us.

God's Law No Barbed-Wire Fence

What is said about the Law of God in Deuteronomy 6 and 11, not to mention elsewhere, supports three propositions. If we put each of these propositions negatively, it is because the opposite proposition is positive, but positively wrong. First it must be said, against a chorus of croakers, that God's Law is no barbed-wire or any other sort of fence. It is not a chain, handcuffs, nor a prison wall. It does not repress, it releases. Note how often in these chapters, and in the Bible, God's will and law are connected with life. Religion has been called (falsely) a "set of scruples," —that is to say, all that religion can do for a man is to make him dreadfully uncomfortable in the region of the conscience. That is definitely not the idea of Deuteronomy. The law of God sets man free. It no more hinders him than a railway track hinders the train.

God's Law Not Superfluous

Another proposition suggested by Deuteronomy is that the law of God is not superfluous. Some people think that because we live under grace, as Christians do, the law is not needed any more. A remark made by the great Saint Augustine is often quoted and enlarged on: Love God, said he, and then you can do as you please. Any act done out of love is right, therefore all you need is love, and the law will take care of itself. Now it is not true that all acts done from love are right. A good many really vicious things have been perpetrated in the name of God by men who loved God with all their might. There have been some quite benevolent tyrants. The New Testament does not suggest that we have grown beyond the law of God now that we know the new law of Love. Rather, love shows us ways in which we may fulfill God's laws. You will find "Love God with all your heart" in Deuteronomy (6:5) and "Love your neighbor as yourself" in Leviticus (19:18). But no writer or user of the Old Testament has supposed that all the other laws but those two could be erased.

God's Law Not God's Whim

An important third point about the Law of God is suggested in these chapters from Deuteronomy. It is the right answer to an old question: Could God have turned the Ten Commandments upside down, so to speak, if he had wanted to? Could he just as well have said, Thou shalt have others Gods before me . . . Thou shalt kill, thou shalt commit adultery, dishonesty, parents, lie and steal? Did he draw these laws, so to speak, out of a cloud, as tickets are drawn at a raffle? In short, are the laws of God arbitrary, a matter of divine caprice? Is all we can say about "right" and "wrong" only "He wants it that way, so shut up!"? Absolutely not. God made man, he made man in his own image. With man, and in man, God created and implanted the laws of man's existence. God's will for man is rooted in his love for us his children.

Jim Conway, CBS Television Star of "In Town Tonight," meets Mrs. Robert Jarchow

"Just imagine, this whole meal was cooked to a turn while I shopped!"

"Electric cooking is so automatic, it's like having someone else do the cooking for you!"

says Mrs. Robert Jarchow, of Northbrook, Illinois, a leader in the Northbrook Service Club, school organizations, and civic and charitable groups.

JIM CONWAY: Mm-m-m-m. A rib roast, baked potatoes, broccoli. What's for dessert?

MRS. JARCHOW: Baked Cherry Delight, Jim. A whole meal ready for me to take out of the oven and serve . . . and all I did was set the controls before I went shopping. That's how easy automatic electric cooking is!

JIM CONWAY: I know, Mrs. Jarchow, and the nice thing: anyone can have it just that easy with a modern electric range . . . 'cause there's no doubt about it, they're completely automatic and foolproof. As you say, just set the dials and the electric range takes over . . . food comes out cooked exactly the way you want it, when you want it. Electric cooking is economical, too . . . only 7¢ a day for the average family.

MRS. JARCHOW: And another thing I like about it, Jim . . . it saves time; gives me a lot more time to be with Bob and the youngsters . . . and extra time for volunteer work. I have a lot more energy left at the end of the day, too. Now that I've experienced electric cooking, Jim, I wouldn't put up with any other kind!

JIM CONWAY: I'll bet your husband wouldn't either . . . not when you put meals like this on the table!

Every day, more modern women

The Community Club held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 13. Due to a delay the meeting didn't start until 8:30. The property investigating committee described a piece of property on Orchard Rd. near Lake Avenue, and a discussion followed. No vote was taken, as other property is being considered. If you know of land for sale, suitable for a club house and playground, please contact Russell Roepenack or William Chase. The building of booths for the carnival is under way. Lewis Rogers and Bill Chase have this assignment and they could use some help. Any man willing and able to swing a hammer or use a saw should contact either Mr. Rogers or Mr. Chase.

There was a report by Mrs. Emory Trussel on the girl scouts.

Teen-agers, don't forget the Record Hop this Saturday in the school basement, from 7:30 to 11:00. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be served and the dance will be chaperoned.

Brownie Troop No. 74 held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon. The girls are pleased with their new troop. Karen Roberts and Susan Davis were hostesses for this meeting. Bonita Willis was treasurer. The mothers of the new Brownies held a meeting Tuesday, May 20, to discuss the troop's future activities, at the home of Brownie Troop Leader, Lois Ward.

Boy Scout Troop No. 86 did not go on a camp-out last week-end. The scouts decided two camp-outs, a week apart, would be too much for the boys. The troop will take part in this week-end's Northwest Area Camporee. The boys will gather at the school Saturday morning at 10:00 and will leave in a body for the Camporee camp site.

At the school board meeting May 19, the janitor requested new cleaning equipment, amounting to approximately $450. The main item is an electric scrubbing and buffing machine. The board approved the request. The board also approved a request to purchase a set of encyclopedias for the students. Next school board meeting will be at 7 p. m. June 16.

Girl Scout Troop No. 83, Betty Amendola, Secretary

Last week at our barbecue we had a very nice time and we want to thank Mrs. Kenneth Van Patten for the case of pop which she donated. This week we are having a regular meeting with games, songs, and a business meeting. Betty Amendola Linda Wheeler, and Audrey Ribacki are working on a play for their second class work. We are trying to get flowers or other plants donated for our booth in the carnival. We have lots of pots but no plants. If you have any small plants to donate contact Camella Jarvis, Antioch 324-51.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Olsen, Sr., of Chicago and Miss Mathilde Olsen, Lake Marie, visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Olsen's mother, Mrs. Frank Brett.

Miss Olsen is spending the summer with her brother in Chicago, while another brother and sister, Miss Agnes and Mr. Harold Olsen, also of Lake Marie, are vacationing in Larvik, Norway. They are visiting relatives that they have not seen since they left their birthplace, Norway, and moved to Oak Park in their youth.

HEALTH HINTS

By Dr. Frank G. Ploudre, President, National Chiropractic Association

A Seasonal Refrain:
"Oh, My Aching Back!"

Spring—just as it brings out the flowers—brings out Homo sapiens. After a winter of virtual hibernation within the family homestead, most of us greet the vernal equinox with the same gusto we would that old school chum who let us copy his Latin translations.

But let's not close our eyes to one of the perils lurking behind Mother Nature's colorful mantle. Every verdant lawn, every tulip bed, cabbage patch, and arbor grove is a potential breeding place for low backaches and pains. And there will be a large harvest reaped by those who suddenly plunge from winter's indoor idleness into the outdoor chores inspired by the heady breezes of spring.

Don't try to rationalize even a minor backache. The observation, "I have a cold that's settled in my back," is about as valid as, "I have a headache that's settled in my ankle." Low-back pains can usually be traced to sprains or strains, lumbago, sciatica, sacroiliac involvement, a slipped disc, or other very specific physical disorders. The body is especially susceptible to these conditions at this time of year, particularly during the early gardening season following a winter of inactivity.

If you develop a backache you "just can't shake," don't run the risks of exposing yourself to chronic agony—or even permanent disability. See your doctor or chiropractor for a physical examination. In that way you will learn the truth about your low-back pains. Through manipulation, necessary adjustment may help restore your normal good health and vitality.

U. of I. Food Report

Chicago Retail Food Markets Weekly Summary May 19-24
CHICAGO—Wholesale red meat costs advance, offset by a corresponding drop in some poultry meat prices to peg the latter at the top of this week's value column.

The poultry price declines, most likely for fryers, are expected to be short lived as active demand is anticipated to bid them right back up. For the moment poultry warrants the weekly University of Illinois consumer service bargain nod, particularly fryers which are down as much as 3 1/4¢ per pound, and new spring shipments of ducks. Turkeys, even at their advanced price level, are relative values when compared to prices of red meats for the week.

The U. of I. survey shows that pork (restricted shipments) loins led the wholesale price advance by 8¢ per pound, butts 3 1/2¢, ribs 1¢, lamb 2¢, veal 1 1/2¢ and beef 1¢ (steady supplies) generally 1/2¢, with the only real store concessions being found in beef roasts as warm weather demand sends steaks and hamburger on the upward trend.

Market advances reflected a supply situation. Opening of weather generally permitted farmers to enter the fields for spring planting, and fewer livestock crossed the market scales. The warmer weather, of course, brought a flush of native vegetables that promise better eating at lower cost. Also dominating the scene is the total storage stock picture.

Meat production is 3 per cent below a year ago, potatoes 3 per cent down, oranges 16 per cent lower, grapefruit 11 per cent below, and egg production is lagging. Storage-wise, there is significantly less cream, evaporated and condensed milk, cheese, broilers, fryers, roasting and stewing hens, and a little less turkey and duck.

While this may not be sufficient to cause new rounds of price advances at retail, it offers enough of an impact to maintain prices at high levels, and advance costs for barbecue items.

Eggs continue as a top value buy, which with selectivity offered by vegetables from local sources may suggest new warmer weather menu possibilities of greater value.

The produce picture is highlighted with continuing improvement in abundance, capped this week with local asparagus, cheap cabbage, plentiful lettuce, value sweetcorn at 60¢ per dozen, more potatoes, and well-supplied California and Tennessee strawberries. Potatoes are high priced with spring production estimated as being off 15 per cent and old crop storage supplies diminished. Continuing scarce and high priced are celery and peppers, as examples. Higher costs are expected for snap beans, broccoli, cucumbers, endive and escarole.

The week's clear-cut relative values break down this way:

Meats—fryers, beef chuck roasts, lamb roasts, duck; vegetables—asparagus, sweetcorn, cabbage, tomatoes; fruits—strawberries, bananas, avocados.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

A good way to avoid the possibility of a collision while driving in a stream of traffic on the open highway is to keep pace with the other vehicles.

The motorist who drives considerably faster or slower than the rate at which the rest of the cars are proceeding causes too much overtaking and passing. These are especially dangerous driving tactics on high-speed highways. You are a much safer and smarter driver if you keep pace with the traffic.

The driver who weaves in and out of traffic as he pushes to get ahead of other vehicles is continually creating traffic hazards. This type of motorist gains nothing to offset the hazards and trouble he creates.

And the motorist who lags far behind the normal traffic stream creates a nuisance. He tempts motorists trailing his vehicle to take chances in an effort to pass him.

Besides being the safe practice, if you keep pace with traffic you'll find your trip will be more enjoyable and less fatiguing.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

17 Days to Summer

"... and if you haven't had your car prepared for the hot days ahead, attend to it now," advises Carol Lane, Women's Travel Director Shell Oil Company.

Your local service station attendant will be glad to:

Drain the winter anti-freeze, and fill the radiator with water containing a rust inhibitor.

Remove the light oil and put in heavier grade oil; (if you've been using the latest, premium quality oil stay with it. It's good all year round.)

Give the car a complete lubrication;

Check the battery and entire electrical system;

Switch the tires and test the condition of your spare;

Tighten the fan belt, and examine the radiator hose for possible wear;

Reset the car's thermostat if it has been regulated for winter weather;

Check the alignment of your wheels, and see if the headlights are focused properly; (Hard winter driving can get them out of adjustment.)

"Remember," says Miss Lane, "your car's in for plenty of hard, not work this summer."

A car checkup now will help insure happier, safer driving when the weather is really warm."
